St. Albert's drug problem discussed

The names of suspected drug pushers have been submitted to the St. Albert detachment of the RCMP by St. Albert Protestant Separate School District officials, but constant surveillance has failed to result in any arrests.

John Hrynew, principal of Paul Kane High School, and Charles Schroder, chairman of the separate district board, both made the statements in reply to a question by Mayor Ray Gibbon at the district's annual meeting last week.

The mayor had asked about the drug situation in St. Albert and what the district had planned to combat it.

Mr. Schroder said the district had a drug and drinking policy, which empowered the principal to suspend any student whom he feels is in possession or under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

The board is informed and a meeting with the parents also follows.

He said the principal has the power to reinstate the student if he feels the problem has been overcome. If it hasn't, the student can be expelled.

He said there were six meetings with students and parents last year, but there haven't been any this year. He said, however, students are encouraged to discuss their problems with counsellors.

Mr. Schroder said it was extremely hard to catch suspected pushers with the goods on hand so they could be prosecuted. He said contact had been made with RCMP twice to have suspected pushers watched and each time they were unsuccessful in securing evidence to warrant an arrest.

Mr. Hrynew said anyone who is on drugs is reluctant to give out any information. RCMP have to have proof and it is hard to obtain because people will not come forth. He said he would appreciate any help he could get from parents.

Dave Thomas, a guidance counsellor with the district, said he would like to start a program on drug education. He said he had discussed it with other counsellors and all would like to get into it.

He said he had been in contact with the RCMP, Preventive welfare officer Elmer Harrison and Dr. J. M. Howell of the Sturgeon Health Unit on it.

Ratepayers to decide on school cutbacks

The St. Albert Protestant Separate School District will reduce its supplementary requisition this year, but at the expense of the program it offers its students.

Trustee W. A. Penrose told the school district's annual meeting last week that the board had agreed to comply with Education Minister Robert Clark's instructions that it cut the supplementary requisition by $101,745, thus easing the load on the municipal taxpayer.

"We have no choice but to try out the new finance plan," Mr. Penrose said, "but later this year we will evaluate all the factors.

"If the education of our children is seen to suffer, we will put the facts before you and you will have to make the decision of telling us and the government that you want either a minimum education program or that you are willing to pay for something better than minimum.

"In the meantime, there will be a mill-rate reduction and a reduced program."

There were 39 persons present at the meeting held in Sir George Simpson Junior High School, but 26 of them were in some way connected with the school system.

Mr. Penrose said that under the Foundation Program changes, the government will provide $102,037 more to the school system than it did last year, money it is obtaining from a two-mill increase on local taxes.

On first glance this might balance out, but it doesn't take into consideration the increase in costs and increase in enrolment of 249 students expected next fall.

"We will be short about $85,000 even if we make no improvement at all to the district's education program," he said. "To strive a balanced budget the whole program must be reduced to a lower standard."

He said the board would be looking for ways to increase the teacher-student ratio, which in St. Albert is one teacher to 17 students. He said the district would go with 132 teachers this year when "the administration has justifiably asked for 147."

Board Chairman Charles Schroder also mentioned some areas the board was looking at in an aid to cut costs, citing educational television, teaching aids and increased teacher loads.

He also suggested some classes, such as art, could even be combined.

Interested in education? Apparently not many people are. At least, that could be the assumption from the empty chairs at the St. Albert Protestant School District's annual meeting in Sir George Simpson Junior High School last week. Only 39 people attended the meeting, and 26 of them were in some way connected with the district. Elmer S. Gish, newly appointed superintendent, addresses the meeting above.

Hundreds attend fashion preview

Pantsuits in prints and plains, linens and lace, were the big news at the 11th annual fashion show presented by the St. Albert Women's Institute at Father Jan School on Friday.

A crowd of 450 turned out for Festival of Fashion 1970- a preview of what's new and delightful in spring togs for tots, sub-teens, teenagers, young and not-so-young moderns. Even the men weren't forgotten as three male models sported the latest in male fashions.

The show, designed with "something for everyone," featured fashions from Woodward's, Westmount.

The 24 models were all from St. Albert and district and they dazzled their audience in dresses, ensembles play clothes, costumes and suits that ranged in mood from gay art nouveau prints to the most delicate of pastel knits. Mini, midi and maxi fashions were all on parade -- as well as middle-of-the-road outfits for the more conservative.

More than 60 outfits were shown, with commentary by Miss Sharon Carr, Woodward's fashion co-ordinator and local TV personality. Hairstyles were by Raymond Salon of Westmount Shoppers Park.

RECREATION

Hi-Lites

RINKS

Although spring is not yet officially here, winter is now over as far as the rinks are concerned. They are closed for all scheduled activities after a very successful season. The hockey and figure skating programs were all completed with not too much interruption because of the weather. The figure skaters finished up with a blaze of glory in the ice carnival on March 6 and after the play-offs were over, many exhibition hockey games were played. However, all good things must come to an end so there'll be no more organized skating till next year.

GOLF

The six-lesson golf school is scheduled to start in St. Albert High School on Wednesday, March 18 at 7 p.m. After that the participants will be divided into three classes. If anyone has any doubt about times, please phone the department of recreation at 599-6601.

SCOTTISH COUNTRY

Mrs. J. Bakker, who is instructing a class in Scottish Country Dancing, will welcome more boys at the lessons which are held each Saturday evening from 5 - 6 p.m. in the Clubhouse. There is no charge for the lessons which are for boys and girls of eight years of age and over. Anyone interested may phone Mrs. Bakker at 599-6225 for further information.

HERCULES SPORTS ASSOC

Late registrations for the Hercules Sports Association soccer program for boys between the ages of eight and 16 years will be taken at the department of recreation in the town hall.

If enough interest is shown there is a possibility of the introduction of soccer and softball programs for girls up to the age of 12 years. Please call at the department of recreation or phone (599-6601) if interested.

BASEBALL

A second registration for baseball is scheduled for Wednesday, March 18 at the Clubhouse from 7 - 9 p.m.

Letters To The Editor . .

The Editor:

It may perhaps interest some of your readers, and our neighbors and friends in St. Albert, that I had been attending the International Assembly of the American Association of Junior Colleges at Honolulu (Feb. 26 - March 5), as an official observer from Canada, upon invitation from the American Association of Junior Colleges.

Delegates from some 18 Asian countries were in attendance at this assembly.

Following the convention, we visited the community colleges on the Islands of Oahu, Maui and Hawaii.

My visit was also in part sponsored by the Centre for the Study of Higher Education at the University of Washington, where I am completing doctoral study under a fellowship from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation.

I am currently on leave from my position as director of instruction at the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology in Edmonton.

Krishan Kamra.

Editor's Note: The Kamras have been residents of St. Albert since 1963, owning a home at 39 Gilmore Cres.

The Editor:

Tonight, March 10, my family and I were again subjected to the nauseating aroma of burning St. Albert garbage. Perhaps it should be described as "that terrible stink" but that would be too harsh for a town that is so proud of its nice, clean country living. That, dear citizens, is a gigantic hoax. Could it be, as a recent writer to the Gazette suggested, that our only hope for an end to this pollution is a demonstration by our future university students. That would be ironic.

When one inquires of the town engineering department about the aroma, he is informed that it was an unavoidable miscalculation. The wind shifted after the burning began. If that is not a miscalculation it may be classed as an act of God. If that is the case then the citizens of St. Albert are really unfortunate. If it was a miscalculation it means that the nauseating aroma was meant for the people to the north, west and/or south of us. Do they not have the same rights and desires for a clean, pure atmosphere as we do?

I understand that the St. Albert dump is going to be phased out. We all know that the government has been talking about phasing out the Edmonton Beverly dump for many years. The dump is still there and the stink lingers. Are the people of St. Albert going to stand quietly by and allow their atmosphere to be polluted.

John Dean.

A car came to a stop in midtown Manhattan, and the driver asked a man on the curb, "Say, where's 42nd Street?"

"I'm a pedestrian," the man replied. "I don't help automobiles!"

Parents' advisory committee

A motion by Trustee W. A. Penrose calling for the formation of a parents advisory committee was defeated at the St. Albert Protestant Separate School District's annual meeting March 11.

MR. Penrose, stating that the school board needed a direct line of communication with parents on a continuing basis, suggested that a small committee of six--changing half its members each year--could provide a means of understanding to just what is going on in the schools and why.

He said trustees would meet with the committee several times each year, and the committee could also provide its views to the board. He felt the process could "hopefully spark a new interest and involvement by the parents."

Mr. Penrose's motion suggested that three members of the committee be selected from the meeting to form the nucleus, then the board would invite other parents to complete it, ensuring that all sections of the town would be represented.

Councillor J. J. Bakker, attending the meeting in his capacity of town father and parent of several school-aged children, said he felt there would be duplication.

He said most of the trustees were parents and they were elected to run school affairs. He felt newsletters from the school were the best way to communicate.

Mr. Penrose, in a last stab at moving the motion forward, said the students' advisory committee recently formed from high school and junior high school had proved very interesting.

"These kids have come in and virtually told us off," he said. "They have shocked us. They have sometimes been very crude, but always truthful. I think this kind of committee can be successful with parents."

The motion, however, gained no further support.

Comets win senior hockey championship

St. Albert Comets of the Sturgeon River Senior Hockey League will probably never face a tougher season than the one just past, but they will also probably never come across one as rewarding.

Comets defeated Westlock Eagles 3-2 before about 1,500 fans in Westlock Arena on Friday night to win the SRSHL championship for the second straight season.

There was a difference this time, though. In the spring of 1969, the healthy Comets were heavy favorites. This time, despite their second-place finish, they weren't considered even money and the odds were dropping quickly as the final series neared an end.

Its lineup riddled with injuries, the Comet team was only a shadow of what it had once been. For a time its roster was cut in half and of those who marked their names on the scoresheet, many would have been declared medically unfit to compete in a shuffleboard tournament.

Comets defeated Spruce Grove Mercuries in a best-of-five semi-final series that went the limit, but they lost Doug Knisley, Gerry Magnan, Dave Joyal and Ron Yanosik through injuries and Jim Reid through suspension.

Still, they ran up a 3-0 lead over the tough Eagles in the final by scores of 5-4, 10-9 and 3-1, losing only one more player, Dave Roberge through an appendix operation.

But the walking wounded began to falter as the Eagles with nothing to lose, turned to a brutal body-checking game. The tide of battle began to turn and when the Comets limped into Westlock Arena last Friday, they faced a do-or-die situation with the series tied 3-3, Eagles having won three straight games by scores of 8-3, 6-1 and 6-3.

It produced one of the best hockey games fans in the SRSHL centres could ever hope to see.

Comets, with Yanosik back in the lineup at full strength and Joyal and Magnan dressing to offer whatever they could, took a 2-0 lead on goals by Ray Lamer and Terry Dube, and held it through the first period despite the fact they at one stage played a minute and 36 seconds two men short.

RAY LAMER

FRED HESSE

Clem Fagnan and Bob Wishloff tied it before the eight-minute mark in the second period, but at 18:17 Comets Captain Fred Hesse snared a rebound and whipped it past Westlock goalie Wayne Stolen to put St. Albert in front again.

The third-period produced tremendous tension. The players felt it, the fans felt it, it was impossible to escape it. For Westlock fans, the clock moved too slowly; for those from St. Albert, the period took a month to play.

The pressure was probably more on the Comets. They held the one-goal lead and it was they who had earlier had the series nearly locked up. Eagles, virtually counted out of it once, had produced a victory of sorts for themselves just by staying around for a seventh game.

Defenceman Richie Perrault took a tripping penalty with slightly more than a minute gone, a penalty he had to take or an Eagle would have been in alone on goalie Rene Brodeur.

Again Comets defence held up under the Eagles power play and for the fifth of seven St. Albert penalties Joyal, arthritic knee and all, played a major role.

As the minutes ticked by, Eagles attack became more frenzied and finally they appeared to get their break. B. Goode Rich McGlone cut around the defence and broke in alone on Brodeur. But as he cut across the goalmouth, Brodeur followed him, sliding into the shot, and the puck bounced harmlessly to the corner of the rink.

Eagles continued to press, but they never got another clear break, even while playing with six attackers for the last minute and 45 seconds.

The time mentioned here indicates the pressure the Comets were under, especially Brodeur. With Eagles goal wide open for that stretch, Comets were unable to get a shot on goal. But they checked frantically and anything they allowed Eagles to throw their way, Brodeur coolly handled.

Brodeur came up big in the playoffs, and his only mistake this game came on Fagnan's goal. He played it perfectly, outracing the Westlock defenceman to the puck, but as he pounced on it, somehow it got away from him, and Fagnan, all alone, backhanded it into the open net.

He was completely at Wishloff's mercy on the second goal, a play that resulted from a poor clearing pass by the St. Albert defence. It was poor clearing in the third period that increased the tension for the many St. Albert fans on hand, as Comets seemed at times to be unable to muster the strength to dump the puck out of their zone.

The game was probably the cleanest played of the playoffs. Comets took seven penalties, Eagles two, a fine ending to a series that was always hard-fought but seldom bitter.

Joyal's farewell to hockey

In the midst of St. Albert Comets' triumph and jubilation at winning the Sturgeon River Senior Hockey League championship last Friday night, there was one disheartening thought.

Dave Joyal had played his last game in Comets or any other uniform.

Joyal had given some great moments to St. Albert fans over the past years, but probably none greater than in his last game in Westlock Arena.

Crippled by arthritis to his right knee that had forced him to retire earlier this season, the 34-year-old veteran donned his gear one more time to help a Comet team that was hurting to a man.

Joyal won't admit he went along to play against the Eagles on Friday night, but he doesn't really deny it either.

In any event, from the time he stepped through the dressing room door, he knew he was going out on that ice.

"I saw the shape most of the guys were in," he said later. "Harry (Pudlowski) was taping some together and others were doing it themselves. Hell, most of these guys were hurting a lot more than I was. I knew I had to give it a try."

Some try.

With Comets using only two lines, he moved into the breach when breathing spells weren't quite long enough for forwards who were maintaining a hectic pace.

But he saved his greatest moments for the killing of penalties, where five times he helped thwart the Westlock power play, experience helping him do the things his legs once did automatically.

"I'd try to go," he said, "but the legs just wouldn't let me." It didn't really matter. Instead of the quick response, he got there just as quickly by sniffing out the play ahead of time, anticipation the great equalizer.

DAVE JOYAL

JAKE VAUGEOIS

Joyal, who has spent about seven years, some of it broken service, in Comets' livery, sometime in the not-too-distant future is expected to go under the surgeon's knife, an operation that will see a steel plate put in the damaged knee.

Friday night, he didn't really seem too unhappy that hockey was behind him. It may have been, though, that he was caught up in the joy of the moment, as all Comets were this night.

For this was a team that no one really thought would win. Ask Buck Flynn. He considered money on Westlock as money in the bank.

Others, who couldn't bet against their hearts, bet with them, and it was one of those times in sports when the underdog came through.

Comets had taken a 3-0 lead in the best-of-seven final, but they were on the ropes after three straight losses. The games they had won had all been close; the games they lost had been all Eagles.

They hung on, though, going on what is politely referred to as intestinal fortitude. In popular usage, however, that comes out guts.

This night, it was enough, and the Cassidys, Joyals, Hesses, Roberges, Perraults, Lemars, L'Hirondelles, Brodeurs, Vars, Magnans, Yanosiks, Goods, Dubes, and Martineaus gave up a silent prayer.

So did coach Ken Schwartz, who seemed to make all the right moves, and General Manager Jake Vaugeois, who couldn't move at all, trainer Harry Pudlowski, tape always at hand, and equipment manager Rene Pouliot, who always thought there should be something more he could do.

This, friends, was the Comet team—champions.

Red Wings split

Meadowlark Community League Peewee B hockey team fortified with a few peewee A players, visited St. Albert and lost 3-2 to Red Wings on March 9.

The Red Wings travelled to Meadowlark on March 12 and this time Meadowlark came out the winner 6-2.

Scoring for Red Wings in the opening game were Gary Ferguson, with two goals, and Gary Muzichuk, Paul Anderson and Alan Hutt scored for Meadowlark.

Ferguson got both goals for Red Wings in the second game. Kerry Popowich sank two for Meadowlark, with Tom Dunwoody, David Getty Keith Hertz and Pat Bley getting one each. Gordon Scott assisted on four of Meadowlarks goals.

Wildcats bounced from playoff

The provincial playoff trail ended in Jasper for St. Albert Wildcats midget hockey team on the weekend.

Wildcats lost out in their two-game total-goal Zone 3 final 12-4 to the smooth-skating Jasper Club.

Wildcats stuck with Jasper for a good portion of the opening game Saturday night, being in a 3-3 tie after the first period and trailing only 6-4 after the second.

Jasper pounded in three unanswered goals in the third, however, for a 9-4 win and on Sunday, after Jasper scored the opening goal in the first period, it was just a matter of playing out the clock.

The second contest ended 3-0 Jasper, with the second and third goals coming in the third period.

Gordie Bellerose, Jan Jensen, Ray Gauthier and Mark Thompson scored in that order for Wildcats on Saturday night.

It was one of the busier weekends goalie George Bonneville has put in this winter, as Wildcats were outshot 53-24 on Saturday and 46-22 on Sunday.

Wildcats coach Harry Bellerose said Monday both games were cleanly played with Wildcats picking up five penalties and Jasper four Saturday and Jasper getting eight of 13 on Sunday.

He said the season may not be over yet for the St. Albert team as it may possibly play a few exhibition games.

The team travelled to Jasper in Roland Bonneville's camper and cars donated by Norman LaCoursiere and Adrian Gamache. Armand LaCoursiere, who assists Bellerose with the coaching, drove Norman's car.

Oilers to operate 2 teams

St. Albert Oilers Senior Baseball Team are hoping to operate two senior teams and a midget club this season.

Oilers Manager Norm LaCoursiere said Sunday night the Oilers would again enter the Oilfield Baseball League but they would also enter a team, still to be named, in the northern league in which Morinville, Vimy and Legal compete.

Oilers may also undergo a change of name in the next few weeks, as two other teams in the Oilfield loop also carry the Oilers' handle.

The St. Albert team finished in second spot in the eastern division of the league last summer, its first in the league, but lost out in the playoff tournament in Leduc.

It has held two practices already this season in the Kinsmen Field House in Edmonton and will begin holding workouts there on a regular basis March 22.

Meanwhile, LaCoursiere is looking for a sponsor for the midget team which will be for boys from 15 to 17 years of age. The St. Albert Lions program will this year add bantam baseball to its Little Canadian operation to take boys up to midget age.

LaCoursiere said the Oilers had first looked at a junior team but then felt it would be better to drop down a bracket now, then when players started coming out of the midget division a juvenile team could be formed to bridge the gap to senior.

The Oilers had planned to obtain a new set of uniforms this season and pass their old ones onto the midget team, but the club has now decided against this.

"The midgets would swim in them," LaCoursiere said, "so we decided we would use them again and try to get a little money ahead for next year.

Anyone interested in sponsoring the midget team can contact LaCoursiere at 599-7016.

The Oilers have planned a social for May 22 to start the season off. More details will come on that later.

The team's practice schedule for the Field House follows:

March 22, 8 a.m. - 9 a.m.
March 29, 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.;
April 2, 9 p.m. - 10 p.m.;
April 5, 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.;
April 6, 9 p.m. - 11 p.m.;
April 9, 10 p.m. - 11 p.m.;
April 12, 11 a.m. - 12 noon.

Hobbema wins native puck tournament

Hobbema All-Stars won top money of $200 and the trophy in the Alexander Braves All-Native Invitational Hockey Tournament held in Morinville Arena last weekend.

Hobbema downed the Braves in the final, after earlier wins over Gleishen and Winterburn. Braves, who collected $100 for their second-place finish, earlier defeated Edmonton Native Sons and Saddle Lake Warriors.

Winterburn, who finished third, and Saddle Lake, who finished fourth, each pocketed $50.

Winterburn defeated Glenevis in their other game and Saddle Lake defeated Duffield in their opener.

Two of the Braves won trophies for their performances during the tournament. Ronald Arcand was named the outstanding goaltender and Leroy Paul was selected as the most valuable player.

More than 1,500 people attended the games, which were held on Saturday and Sunday.

ST. ALBERT SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 3

ANNUAL MEETING MARCH 24, 1970

In May of 1969, a vacancy on the Board was created when Mr. R. O'Hara moved to Toronto. In the October municipal election, Dr. W. Mirlin, was returned to office and Mr. J. K. Flaherty was nominated for the vacant position; both members were elected by acclamation.

The trustees and officials presently in office are as follows: Trustee (Chairman) Mr. D. B. Fraser; Trustee (Vice Chairman) Mr. D. J. LaBelle; Trustees Mrs. S. C. Ross; Dr. W. Mirlin and Mr. J. K. Flaherty.

The financial statement for 1969 shows a total expenditure of $1,151,770.47 which was $16,742.84 above the total revenue. This deficit was due mainly to expenditures being above budget estimates in the categories of instructional aids, transportation and interest charges. Individual ratepayers may obtain copies of the financial statement, plus reports of the trustees and superintendent, at the district office; at the church entrance, St. Albert Parish, Sunday, March 22nd, at the Annual Meeting, March 24, or phone 599-7711 if one wishes copies to be sent by mail.

The Board is concerned with the spiralling cost of education and although the number of years in the last ten that have ended with deficits have been small, the accumulated total continues to increase. The passage of Bill 35, presently before the Alberta Legislature, may severely limit our revenue and will certainly make recovery of our accumulated deficit impossible without reducing services.

The total levy for education in 1969 was 46.887 mills (45.066 in 1968) which included 22.624 (21.080 in 1968) for supplementary requisition and 24.263 (23.986 in 1968) as the municipality's contribution to the school foundation program fund.

The formula for distribution of provincial funds in 1970 will change partly in accordance with the proposals of the Minister's Committee on School Finance.

Your Board sees merit in the new formula, however, the restriction placed on supplementary requisitions is extreme and will compound the financial problems of District No. 3. Regulations that become law with passage of Bill 35 in effect freeze the basic supplementary requisition, for each of the following three years, at nearly 50 per cent below the 1969 levy. An additional amount (up to a maximum of $28.00 per student times the enrollment in September 1969) may be requisitioned once or spread over the three year period in order that the transition will be less drastic. No provision has been made to allow revenue to increase according to the normal increase in assessment except for the portion paid by the municipality to the provincial government. This will have a serious effect in a rapid growth area such as St. Albert, also it is completely opposite to the recommendation of the Minister's Committee which states "If this procedure is required of school boards, it should apply equally to municipal councils, in fact, to provincial and federal governments as well. It is true that plebiscites may now be required for debentures but no government in Canada has to request from its electorate a mandate to tax for operating purposes. The committee considers that to make this exception is to question the integrity of school government, a reflection which is not justified in view of the dedication of local school boards to the task of education and the restraint they have shown in expenditures despite the problems they have faced over the last several years." It appears that the Minister or the Executive Council over-ruled the Committee's recommendation and made instead an arbitrary, dictatorial non-benevolent decision. The Board has prepared a critique of the foundation formula and regulations regarding the supplementary requisition which will be presented to the Minister of Education, Mr. R. C. Clark.

Early in 1969 the school boards and council agreed to co-locate school sites with parkland so that each new neighborhood will have a useful recreation area. The Board finalized an agreement for a new school site between Sir Alexander Mackenzie School and the Alcan condominium development. We also have title to another five acre site in river lot 46.

Our administrative and teaching staff developed a plan for extension of Albert Lacombe School, based on the open area concept. A certificate of need has been presented to the School Building's Board and approval of this project is expected soon.

The Board has initiated a major revision of its policy handbook in view of current changes in education and implications of Bill 35. To date, trustees and staff are involved but the Board will extend an invitation to parents and students to assist in this project. Realistic objectives, priorities and procedures must be defined and total involvement of the Catholic community is necessary if we are to give our children a proper total education. We must provide the necessary environment and facilities so that the individual student may acquire wisdom and dignity which will enable him or her to cope in a changing world yet be tolerant and thoughtful of the needs of others in society.

The Board has arranged for a half hour TV program, produced totally by district talent, to portray some of the educational accomplishments of the district in 1969. This will be the highlight of the annual meeting which begins at 8 p.m., March 24.

On behalf of the Board I wish to extend a vote of appreciation to the entire staff for their dedication to service, also a personal thanks to other members of the Board for their support in 1969.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Board.

D. B. Fraser, Chairman.

Family Life series planned

An open invitation has been extended to all adults of St. Albert to attend a series of three lectures on Adult Education for Family Life.

The lectures, which begin April 12, will be held on three consecutive Sunday evenings from 8:30 to 10 p.m. in the St. Albert Roman Catholic Church basement.

The aim of the lecture series, to be presented by a team of highly qualified speakers, is to give adults of this area a better understanding of family life education.

Conducting the lectures will be Gregory Belland, Walter Shoenhofer, Sister Simone Brisard and Father Desmond Bowler. The speakers are members of an Edmonton team which has followed the family life courses presented at the Lakehead, under the direction of Father Lafreniere.

The team is presently working with the Edmonton Separate School Board with a view to introducing family life education into separate schools in Edmonton.

The project has been sanctioned by the education committee of St. Albert Roman Catholic parish and the organizers urge that all interested adults of the area attend this series of lectures dealing with a timely and controversial subject.

Anyone wishing further information, please call 599-7276.

Times set for Career Fairs

A final planning meeting for the coming Career Fair was held at St. Albert High School on Wednesday, March 11. Representatives from Stony Plain were present to investigate the participation of the students from the County of Parkland in the Career Fair. Times for the different schools were finalized. The new schedule is as follows:

1. Opening of the Fair by Mayor Gibbons.
2. St. Albert High School 9 - 1:30.
3. County of Sturgeon, Morinville, Legal, and Stony Plain 11 - 1:30.
4. St. Albert Protestant Separate Schools 1 - 3:30.
5. Parents and visitors are invited to come at any time.

Card of Thanks

I would like to extend a sincere vote of thanks to all the nice people who supported me during the recent campaign for the St. Albert Carnival Queen. Your generosity put me within 60 cents of the top; and your gracious reception, when I knocked on your door, will always be remembered.

Thanks to each and every one of you for your help.

Mini or maxi

"Mini - midi - maxi?" That is the question every fashion-conscious woman is asking herself these days. But if you think she's got problems, consider what her hesitation to buy is doing to some retail-store executives. One major Canadian department store laid hem lengths on the line, saying: "We believe short lengths will continue for the coming season.

For this spring and summer, however, the longer lengths may have trouble capturing a market. When midis were shown recently at a large Canadian fashion show, the response was so apathetic that the commentator felt obliged to say: "Never mind, ladies, this is what you will have to wear anyway."

On a night fishing trip in the Everglades, the fisherman sought reassurance from his guide: "Isn't it true that alligators won't approach you if you carry a lantern?"

The guide nodded and replied: "Of course, a lot depends on how fast you carry it."

Report from the Legislature

By Keith Everitt, MLA

It would appear the honourable leader of the opposition has made a serious mistake. Yesterday, March 11th, he announced to the legislature that the Conservatives were going to oppose section 117 of The School Act. This is the section which makes it possible for the Cabinet to provide a plebiscite of the electors if a school board desires to spend beyond the amount decided by government.

I realize and am very much aware that there are those who agree with Mr. Lougheed's stand but I am going to suggest that the average taxpayer in this province is of the opinion that it is high time some control was put on the cost of education in this province. It must be remembered that we are not saying the school boards can not spend beyond the six per cent increase per student, but that they must have approval of the ratepayers.

In other words, the school board will have a selling job to do and if they are asking for legitimate expenditures then surely the ratepayers will agree with their decision.

When you hear rumours that a flag pole has cost a school board $1,700, you really can't blame the citizens of this province becoming concerned. Mr. Lougheed in my opinion is letting the ratepayers of this province down. We must not forget the province of British Columbia is already doing this, and this year the Ontario government now makes it mandatory that school boards submit their budgets to a government board for scrutiny. Surely it is far more feasible to let the ratepayers have the final say instead of some appointed board having jurisdiction over an elected body. I would hope the Conservatives would reconsider their present stand.

The Honourable J. D. Henderson has just outlined the premiums involved in the New Medicare Premium Structure. It would appear that the rates are much more in line with the popular Alberta Health Plan we had a couple of years ago. The four-mill hospitalization tax on property is now removed, the $2.50 direct hospital charge per day will be eliminated. It was necessary, however, to levy a $5. hospital entrance fee. Attached is a chart outlining the proposed New Alberta Health Care Insurance Premium.

We have now completed about half of the estimates and a number of resolutions have been disposed of. However, there are 80 Bills to deal with. The last two weeks has been a great strain, hundreds of letters to answer, phone calls and committee meetings. I have made an honest endeavour to get reaction to the Municipal Government Act, Municipal Elections Act and the Municipal Taxation Act from the elected officials of the various municipalities. A large number of constituents have taken in afternoon or evening sessions and I say welcome. It is pleasing to see so many interested.

the r

The Editor:

Writing letters to the editor is something I rarely do; however, after reading last week's Report From the Legislature by Mr. Keith Everitt, I couldn't help but react.

The point that disturbed me was Mr. Everitt's statement concerning the recently announced federal policy designed to reduce Canadian wheat stocks. Mr. Everitt states:

"It would appear to me, without having given this study, that the same amount of money would have accomplished a lot more if the price of wheat could have been lowered to countries like Rumania and make up the difference to the farmers in the payment of subsidies. Subsidies are not a negative method, such as payments not to produce are."

It appears to me that Mr. Everitt doesn't understand the problem-over-production of wheat in the world, including Canada, nor does he comprehend the economics of the situation.

The Canadian Wheat Board recently refused to sell Romania 200 million bushels of wheat at $1.52 per bushel. Why? Rumania is an exporter of wheat, and therefore we would be supplying one of our competitors with wheat at a "bargain price," not only violating the International Grains Agreement, and destroying what co-operation presently exists to sustain prices; but losing whatever chance we have of competing for sales in the market Rumania would sell to.

Remember the world wheat market is basically inelastic. This would compare to General Motors selling most of its cars to Ford at prices lower than production cost, while fully expecting that there will be no change in the total number of cars sold during that year.

Furthermore, Mr. Everitt, subsidies in this situation are negative because they perpetuate the basic problem-over production. Our small population can't carry uneconomic activity of this kind over a prolonged period--we can't afford it!

There are only two basic methods of quickly reducing wheat supplies while sustaining markets and prices. One is to buy existing and future surplusses at adequate prices and destroying them so they don't reach the market; and secondly, one can offset the costs of non-production over the short term, while developing appropriate solutions for the longer term. I suggest the first method is less desireable than the second, and that the second represents what the federal administration is trying to achieve.

The present policy is an effort to:

1. Inject cash into the wheat economy of the West.
2. Prevent mass diversification and "change-over" from wheat farming to other agricultural activities, which would destroy the markets for coarse grains, beef, pork, and other farm commodities.
3. Obtain the co-operation of other major wheat producers in the Western world to adopt similar measures to reduce their surplusses and therefore firm prices.

Further to the present federal policy you can expect other federal programs to improve marketing, such as protein-grading; and hopefully, market-expansion programs among peoples who presently do not include wheat products in their basic diets.

Paul Kane news

Paul Kane High School's boys curling team, skipped by Max Duplika, won the Edmonton High School League championship last week.

Duplika's rink defeated St. Joe's 7-4 in the deciding game at the SportEx.

It was the rink's 15th victory of the season against only three defeats. It had not lost a game since November.

Don Mitchell played third, Dave Wright was second and Ken Love was lead. It was the same group that represented Paul Kane in the provincial championships, losing out in the zone playoff.

The league, which had teams from all city high schools, plays in the SportEx every Tuesday afternoon throughout the winter.

The Paul Kane rink was coached by Bob Prather.

THE REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT, ST. ALBERT SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 3 TO THE ANNUAL MEETING, MARCH 24, 1970

The past year has been marked by rapid growth, some problems, interesting innovations, and many solid achievements. Change of course is inevitable and desirable if we are to have progress, therefore logically we must accept the problems inherent in change.

A brief statement of the philosophy of the Board might be of value to relative newcomers and to longtime residents of the district.

The primary aim of our education is to form the individual so that he may live a christian life, and to equip him to take his place in the society where he must live. While recognizing and allowing for the differences in people each person is encouraged to develop to his maximum potential.

The above philosophy has many implications for educational practise. A few illustrations are in order.

a) The dignity and work of each person is recognized as paramount.
b) Special staff, facilities, and time are provided for religious instruction.
c) Continuous promotion of pupils each year recognizes that little is accomplished by failing a child.
d) The opportunity and transitional rooms attempt to assist the child who has special handicapps.
e) Vocational programs are provided for students who wish to explore their talents in the technical areas.
f) Specialist teachers work with pupils who temporarily leave regular classes in order to get help with their problems.
g) The best possible staff is assembled to promote academic excellence.
h) Programs which try to meet the needs of students are constantly broadened, subject of course, to the district's financial resources.

Below certain areas of the program are examined in greater depth:

GUIDANCE

Guidance services refer to those organized activities within the total school program which are intended to assist students with their individual developmental needs The real aim is to make the individual increasingly self-directive and to help him to fulfill his potential for growth.

With the increasing complexity of the schools and the world, there is a mounting danger that the individual as an individual may become submerged. The purposes of guidance are centred about the individual; they are devoted to assisting the child in understanding the world about him as that world impinges on his expectations and plans.

Guidance services are offered in the schools from grades one to 12. Four teachers are concerned directly with the program; one in a supervisory capacity, two at grades eight to 12 and one grades one to seven. In addition the Principals and home room teachers are deeply involved.

READING

Reading is described as a process, as a form of thinking, as real experience, as a vicarious experience and as a tool for thinking. It involves visual discrimination, independent identification of words, and proper eye movements. Reading is thinking since it involves a whole complex of skills and abilities; learning, reflection, judgment, analysis, synthesis, selection and organization. Finally reading is a means for learning for without this ability ideas could be passed on through noises and bodily gestures only.

When a child has serious reading difficulties he is removed from the classroom for small group or individual instruction during the regular classroom reading period until such time as his reading age is commensurate with his mental age.

Four teachers are allocated to the remedial reading program.

TRANSITIONAL CLASSES

These classes are operating at the grade three to four level and at the grade six to seven level this year. The concept of the transitional class is based on the premise that students who have had difficulty in their school work can benefit from a concentration of program in a small enrollment situation. Curriculum in these classes is geared as much as possible to individualizing instruction but the major portion of the program is related to the language arts and mathematics. Experience in the elementary transitional class has been that the pupils are able to function better the succeeding year and in most cases have progressed normally. During the course of the year some pupils are placed in regular classrooms when it appears that they are ready for such a program.

The Junior High Transitional Class has essentially the same philosophy with respect to curriculum and enrollment but there is an increased emphasis on preparation of these students for vocational programs. This year the Junior High Transitional Class is at the grade seven level with an enrollment of 17. These transitional classes serve the entire district and are housed at Vital Grandin.

OPPORTUNITY ROOM

This is a class for slow learners and draws children from three districts, St. Albert Protestant Separate School District No. 6, Sturgeon School Division No. 24, and St. Albert School District No. 3. The ages of the children ranges from seven to 12 years and the present enrollment is 14. A senior opportunity class serving the needs of the same three districts has operated the past two years at Sir George Simpson Junior High School. The goals and achievements of these rooms are currently under review.

HIGH SCHOOL

One of the most significant changes in the past two years has been the adoption of the semester system. An evaluation of its advantages and disadvantages will be presented to the Board in May, 1970. Some advantages to the students are:

It reduces the credit load thus enabling the student to concentrate more on the work at hand.

A much greater flexibility of program is made possible; courses may be repeated without loss of a whole school year - even the pattern of the courses can be changed. Part time students can be accommodated much more readily. Scheduling in physical education, vocational and laboratory courses is facilitated. Adult students short two or three subjects can get a diploma in five months.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

The scope of this program may interest and pleasantly surprise parents. This program entails a large expenditure of time and effort on the part of the staff. The list below is related to the St. Albert High School:

junior and senior basketball, junior and senior volleyball, curling, cross country, track and field, skiing, archery, gymnastics, year book, golf, swimming, tennis, football, cheerleader group, library club, lady of good council club, photograph club, art club, computer club, choir, St. Albert Parish Movers, Students' Union, chess club, career day, and numerous social functions typical of a high school.

INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS CENTRE

The purpose of the Instructional Materials Centre is to enrich the program in each classroom. The schools are becoming increasingly research oriented therefore much more resource material is needed. The services rendered by the Instructional Materials Centre fall into three categories.

a) Program resources
b) Printing and duplication
c) Television

The Instructional Materials Centre is located in Vital Grandin School with a small centre in each school operated in conjunction with the library. A great deal of free material is collected, classified and filed for use in the classrooms. Television is the newest venture in this field. We now have two video tape recorders which enable us to tape TV programs off the air. There is also a small scale TV studio in our high school where teachers and students produce live programs such as the one you will see this evening.

We are now offering a credit media course at the high school. It is too early to evaluate the potential of TV in the schools but it looks promising.

The grade 12 results in June were very good and are given in the table below:

H - 9.2% A - 25.4% B - 44.3% C - 17.8% D - 3.2%

Ninety-one pupils wrote grade nine of whom 10 failed. Five of these were placed in special grade 10 programs in keeping with the basic philosophy of the board. One student won the Governor General's Medal.

ADMINISTRATION

The theory of co-operative administration is practiced to a degree in the operation of the schools of the district. On the first Monday of each month a meeting is held of the Administration Group. Present are the Principals, Vice-Principals, Coordinators, two Board members and the Superintendent. Any topic relevant to the operation of the schools may be discussed. If consensus is obtained recommendations may go to the Board. If these are accepted by the Board they are then made official Board policy. There are, of course, many other meetings with principals and teachers.

I wish to express my deep appreciation for the excellent co-operation from the Board and Staff in the past year.

V. J. Maloney,
Superintendent of Schools.

St. Albert high news

The Camilla game ended in a tie and remained so until Letitia Sopchuk scored with 30 seconds left in the second overtime period.

Annette Durand was high scorer in the contest with six points.

In the Sir John Thompson game, the forward line of Terry Jwasko, Letitia Sopchuk and captain, Janet Thompson collected 12 points, Letitia scoring eight, and the other two girls two each.

In the final game against Sir George Simpson the high scorers were Letitia Sopchuk and Evelyn Horky, each with four points, and Carmen Gibeau with three.

With these three victories the St. Albert girls brought their season record to 12 victories and five losses. St. Albert competed in a league with Mission Park, Sir George Simpson and Sir Alexander Mackenzie and was undefeated in five league games.

Inglewood community association

The Inglewood Community League, one of the largest in the City of Edmonton, has been most active in the past year.

This winter the Inglewood league sponsored six minor hockey teams and there were 77 children enrolled in the figure skating and learn-to-skate classes.

At the present time Lacrosse and Soccer players are limbering up in the school gym, awaiting favorable outdoor conditions.

The Peddle Pushers are also awaiting suitable road conditions to begin another club for the summer.

There are also playschool classes for the pre-schoolers. Childrens arts and crafts classes as well as ladies classes. Boys enjoy model aeroplane building.. Sports and fitness classes are held in the Inglewood School gym for all interested age groups.

Registration will be held soon for boys' and girls' midget baseball for teenagers who have graduated from youngsters softball teams. All these activities in the Inglewood district are under the auspices of the Inglewood Community League.

The present executive members are:

President, Vernon Wells; First Vice-President, W. Helmwood; Second Vice-President, Harold Neate; Treasurer, Mrs. Margo Hervieux; Secretary, Mrs. H. Hardie.

Various committee chairment also serve on the executive, and the Inglewood Community League, is organized to take care of leisure programs for all age groups.

janitors course planned

About 100 maintenance and custodial personnel from Alberta schools are going to spend some time in the classroom this coming summer.

It's all part of a new summer course, Custodial Training School, sponsored by the provincial institutes of technology in co-operation with the school buildings branch of the department of education.

Tentative dates for the five-day course are July 6 to 10 at the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology and July 20 to 24 at the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology.

Subjects to be discussed by instructors include modern flooring and general cleaning; painting; electrical, plumbing and heating systems; hardware; roofing and supervisory practices.

A Trade Fair will also be held at which various companies will display their products. The school was started last year to help maintenance and custodial personnel upgrade their knowledge of maintenance practices.

"The courses were highly successful and the personnel who participated were very enthusiastic and anxious to see this type of instruction continued," says Tom Paton, maintenance supervisor for the school buildings branch.

Brochures and application forms will be mailed out to school boards in June. The forms and course fees are to be returned to NAIT and SAIT. A slight fee increase is expected this year because of extended instruction periods.

Mr. Paton points out that the courses are mainly intended for maintenance and custodial staff from rural school boards. A memorandum explaining the program has been sent out to all school boards in the province.

"We feel that this form of assistance is desirable and necessary for most school authorities, and the comparatively small cost should be returned many times over in the form of increased efficiency and in a more skillful and intelligent use of materials," Mr. Paton said.

Georges P. Vanier holds open house

Education night held at Georges P. Vanier High School on March 4 attracted a large crowd of interested parents and enthusiastic students. The following demonstrations were presented by the students:

Chemistry, Physics, and Biology demonstrations by Senior High;

Art skills demonstrated and displayed by grades 7 and 8 students;

Other points of interest were the Library, Yearbook, Canadian artifact and V-8 motor displays.

Mini-classes on various subjects, such as mathematics, English, and music appreciation were presented in typical classroom circumstances. The physical education demonstrations by grades 7 - 10 girls with Mrs. Elizabeth Yasinski as instructor, impressed spectators.

Participants in the English oratory contest prepared two minute speeches. The winners were presented with trophies for their accomplishments: Grade 7 - Norman St. Laurent; Grade 8 - James Behiels; Grade 9 - Celine Beland.

Coffee and cookies were served after the program, compliments of the Senior Students' Union.

The evening provided an opportunity for parents to become acquainted with the educational programs offered at their school. The effort and co-operation of the teachers and students and the interest of the parents combined, made the event a success.

Concert promises fine evening

St. Albert residents who enjoy good choir music will have the opportunity of hearing two fine groups performing here on April 8.

The First Presbyterian Church choir under the direction of Mr. Newcombe and the St. David's Welsh Male Voice Choir, directed by B. Griffith will present a delightfully varied program entitled "April Evening in Song" at the United Church in St. Albert.

Plans for the concert stemmed from the annual meeting of the Braeside Presbyterian Church here, when the Braeside choir presented a request for funds. Dr. Edwin White of First Presbyterian Church offered the services of their choir and arrangements were made later for the St. David's group to come as well. Since there is not a choir loft at the Braeside Church, Reverend Len Musto of the United Church was approached and offered the use of their premises.

Funds from the concert will go to the Braeside Choir Director, Mrs. Bernice Watkins for music and supplies. Tickets at 50¢ each are available from any member of the Braeside congregation or those interested may telephone Eileen Gibbon at 599-7614 or Mrs. A. Vandenberg at 599-6576.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kruchelle (top) of Edmonton entertained St. Albert's senior citizens at a concert party in the Legion Hall on Tuesday afternoon. Below left is Mrs. Marie-Rose Vantighen, 3 Madison Ave. who was celebrating her 88th birthday, and Mrs. Doris Crawford, master of ceremonies from Edmonton. Mrs. Vantighen was born in St. Albert. The afternoon was sponsored by the St. Albert Breakfast Lions Club and hostesses were Mrs. Delores Kambouroff, Mrs. Lucy Huberdeau, Mrs. Bernice Watkins, Mrs. Doreen Robinson, Mrs. Joyce Meurin and Mrs. Anne Kampen.

St. Albert High news

Displays of various fields will be shown in the gym and lectures will begin at 9:30 a.m. The fair will cover many occupations, some of which are: Health careers, university, college and technical training, government jobs, office jobs, professional careers etc.

The time set aside for students of St. Albert High and their parents is from 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. Everyone is invited and a special invitation is extended to all parents of students at the school, to come and investigate the various career possibilities opening up in the future, for their children.

Legal KCs treat wives to breakfast

The Legal Knights of Columbus treated their wives last Sunday to a delicious breakfast.

They prepared, served (even washed the dishes) without the help of the ladies. The "Chefs" really had to keep the bacon sizzling and the toaster red hot to be able to serve some 70 persons.

The ladies enjoyed their meal tremendously and want to thank the "cooks" for "the" relaxing Sunday breakfast.

The Grand Knight Rene Maurier welcomed the new members that were received last Saturday.

They were Father Rosario Simard, August Keiser, John Cornelius, Al Derrien, Bill Barry, Andy Campbell, Laurent Maurier, Norman Charrois, Frank Laberge, Norbert Quaghebeur, Louis Lecavalier, Bernard Clement, Emile Clouthier, Gerard Quaghebeur, Richard Clouthier, August Courseaux, Allan Keane, Martin Ostopowich; Raymond Tremblay.

Rene was proud to announce that the juvenile team sponsored by the Knights had won the cup Saturday night making it the second year. He also told the ladies to start thinking about making a basket for the social that will be held in April, proceeds to go for the parish.

Lion notes

By John Huberdeau

A special joint meeting of the membership committees of the St. Albert Lions Club and the St. Albert Breakfast Lions Club was held on Wednesday, March 11, at the Purple Dude Restaurant on the St. Albert Trail.

The meeting chaired by Lion President Rock Holman was a special meeting wherein new lions were introduced into all aspects of lionism.

New lions Norm Harder, Ted Tetreau, Ken McCrimmon, Laurie Turner, Bud Husband, Wally Glimm, Bud LeClerc, and Rollie Bonneville kept the various speakers busy fielding a barrage of questions.

John Huberdeau gave a short resume of the history of lionism since its founding in 1917, in Chicago, by Melville Jones. Past President Rod Throndson led a discussion on the Lions Code of Ethics and Lion Objects.

Mr. Holman gave a short history on Lionism in St. Albert and indicated some of the activities and projects in which the clubs participate. He indicated that the main project of the club is the Lions Park which has been slowly developing over the years until it is a decided asset to the town. He pointed out that Lions organized Little Canadian League Baseball, sponsored the Air Cadets, sponsored various social activities for Senior Citizens of the town and district, and are presently forming a junior edition of lions, a Leo Club, in St. Albert.

These and other activities were made possible by funds raised in the town and surrounding area through raffles, an annual light bulb campaign, a casino night, a walk-a-thon, and a telephone book indexing project to name a few.

Mr. Huberdeau asked for the support of the lions of St. Albert for the candidacy of Lion Virgil Moshansky of Vegreville for third vice-president of Lions International. He said that the mathematical probabilities of producing a lion of sufficient calibre and desire, to aspire to this high office and who would have the support of Lions throughout the world, and especially in the United States, were very high against. It was essential therefore that every effort be extended to ensure that Mr. Moshansky be elected third vice-president which would lead him to the position of president of Lions International, and thereby to contact with government leaders throughout the world.

The annual Lions Bonspiel held at the Sportex Sunday, March 15, was the most successful yet. Teams from all over districts 37B and 37F gathered for a day of fellowship and competition. The two Lions clubs of St. Albert, better known in Lions circles as the Bacon and Egg Group and the Sausage and Mash Club, sent five teams to the event. The rundown for St. Albert clubs were as follows:

Breakfast A - Hutchings, Demers, Ratchinsky and Huberdeau, one win, two losses;

Breakfast B - Hauptman, Kaminski, Hewgill, and any number of assistants, one tie, two wins;

Supper A - Kambouroff, Garrett, Klein, Montpetit, two wins, one loss;

Supper B - Taylor, Parkins, Keith, Mykityshyn, one win, two losses;

Supper C - Ward, Throndson, Watkins, Peters, one win, one tie, one loss.

The awards for the day were as follows: District 37F Region 1 Viking; District 37F Region 2 Lamont C; District 37B Region 1 Leduc B; District 37B Region 2 S. Edmonton D; District 37B Region 3 High Level.
